

I value the Wisconsin Do Not Call List. It is much tougher on telemarketers as to who can call and the penalties. One day last week I had two telemarketers call me within an hour even though I am on the Wisconsin Do Not Call List. I will be filing complaints on the calls.

In response to the request by the Consumer Bankers to call people who close accounts, if I close an account with a financial institution, I did it for a reason. I do not want a company I did business with in the past to call me. It is bad enough that the company can continue to send me mail.